The judging took place during the first week of July 2010, with Roz Kleffman of the Bowie-Crofton Camera Club organizing and coordinating the effort. The judges were Dick Whitley, APSA, PPSA, Dave Horneck, and Bill Conway. Others from the club that helped were Beth Fabey, Zolt Levay, Shirley Conway, Vince Ferrari, and Gretchen Buddenhagen. Many thanks to the Bowie-Crofton Camera Club, Roz Kleffman, the judges and the workers.

Repeating again this year, the New England Camera Club Council (NECCC) won the overall first place with a total of 296 points.

New England Camera Club Council (NECCC) won the digital section with 108 points.

North Central Camera Club Council (N4C) won the print section with 104 points.

Wisconsin Area Camera Clubs Organization (WACCO) won the slide section with 96 points.

There were a total of thirteen councils or associations participating this year with six competing in all three sections, three competing in two sections, and four competing in only one section. This competition is open to any organized group of camera clubs and the group must be a member of PSA. The individual clubs within the organized group do not have to be PSA members for the organization to enter the competition. If your club is in a PSA member organization of clubs and not represented in this Results Sheet, please encourage your group to compete next year. If the organization does not have a PSA membership, work on getting a membership so it can participate. ■
